

Introduction to Health & Safety

- Video
- SCORM

Health and safety is one of the most important aspects of a new employee induction programme. You don't want your new starters to be injured during their first day or week. Looking at all of the key areas of health and safety, this video course will provide new starters with the basic information they require.

Course Content:

Introduction

- Workplace safety
- Slips, trips and falls
- Manual handling
- Fire safety
- COSHH
- Electrical safety
- Checklist
- Self Test

"The whole range of essential health and safety information is shown in one short piece with the topics running seamlessly into one another. It is very well presented particularly the use of the child as an example bringing home the points well."

Who is it for?

- New starters
- Employees moving site or work area
- Employees requiring refresher training

Duration:

- 20 minutes

Available in:

- Video
- SCORM